M'KINLEY'S OVATION.

The Buckeye Governor Arouses Great Enthusiasm.

AN ELOQUENT AND POINTED SPEECH.

Resolution on the Death of Marshal Oliveira—Preaching at the Fair—Still Fighting Sunday Opening.

World's Fair Grounds, Chicago, June 22.—Ohio's handsome World's Fair home which faces the State Palace of Fine Arts in the northern portion of the grounds was the scene yesterday afternoon of a delightfully informal reception, which was concluded with an ovation to the popular Buckeye governor, William McKinley, Jr. No cards were issued for the event. The governor came to Chicago attended by his staff, to see the fair. He was prevailed upon by the World's Fair board to receive informally for the benefit of Ohioans now at the fair. This he consented to do, and at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon he appeared at the State building, accompanied by Daniel J. Ryan, executive World's fair commissioner, Capt. W. A. Cummings and W. E. Sefton, members of the state board. The governor was met at the door by ex-Congressman C. M. Anderson, of Greenville, O., and escorted to the reception room, where he met the other members of the board and the lady managers of the state. The governor, escorted by Mr. Anderson, then entered the "chapel" room, where he was introduced to a few prominent citizens of that place, and later entered the "chapel" room, where a number of people welcomed him. The rooms were beautifully decorated with palms, cut flowers and many rare exotics, when the governor took up his position in a bower of roses in the reception room, where the informal event took place. About 10,000 people were massed in front of the building and as many of these were admitted during the hour as the governor could comfortably greet. Shortly after 3 o'clock the doors were closed and the crowd outside who had not met the governor sent up a tremendous cheer. After waiting a few minutes, the governor, accompanied by his staff, went up the stairs and upon the balcony. When the governor appeared in view of the people there was a wild cheer of greeting, which was echoed by the other members of the board. The governor raised his hand. The governor said: "My friends, ladies and gentlemen, I undertook to shake hands with all the people here and said that there were millions outside. This reception must stop; I come only in response to your call to say how much I and the people of Ohio appreciate your what I am glad to see the people of the United States and the people of the world mingling at this great occasion. This is the greatest display that has ever been shown, and the world will never see its equal. No such magnificent spectacle as this great fair could take place in any city but this. I thank you all for this cordial greeting."

The governor's words were greeted with prolonged cheering, which he acknowledged by bowing right and left as he retired from the balcony. Maj. McKinley then retired to the room set apart for him on the second floor in the southeast part of the building, where, after partaking of light refreshments and resting for about half an hour, he again entered his carriage and went about the grounds to see the sights. Among those present at the reception were Mayor Smith of Cincinnati, B. H. Roberts, of Chicago, and Lafayette Williams, Col. Jones and W. T. Alberson; Miss Foster, daughter of Hon. Charles Foster; William Hartington and Mrs. Haydon.

Mexico's exhibit in the Women's building was opened to the people yesterday without any ceremony. It is the intention of the Mexican citizens here to celebrate the opening of the Mexican exhibit in the Women's building. The most conspicuous exhibit of artificial flowers in the Women's building is a model of the carved Santa Maria which was built by the Mexicans in the Aztec style, and the Mexican display of Aztec, their idols and a model of the Aztec before the conquest of Cortez, which was opened yesterday in the Anthropological building.

Eight hundred singers, picked from the Cincinnati Festival society, the Minneapolis Choral association, St. Louis Choral society and the St. Paul Choral association sang their parts in Bach's "A Stronghold," and a part of Wagner's "Lohengrin." These 800 voices directed the chorus and his orchestra of 100. The solo parts were taken by Miss Emma Juch, soprano; Miss Lena Little, contralto; Mr. Lloyd, tenor; George Ellsworth, bass, baritone, and Emil Fischer, bass. The selections from Lohengrin were "Vorspiel," scenes from the act, including the prayer and finale, the bridal march, the introduction to act III, nuptial chorus and Lohengrin's song, ending with the march. The concert was a creditable one throughout, and much an improvement over yesterday's performance.

J. M. Doucette Ribeiro, Portuguese commissioner and delegate of the Porto Commercial association to the exposition, and S. Chapman Simma, Portuguese vice-consul, received a large number of fair officials, foreign officials and newspaper representatives at the opening of Portugal's exhibit on exhibition. Wines eighteen years old were shown and sampled. The pavilion in the main hall, which is the place for the sale of the exhibit, the flags and banners and coat-of-arms of Porto and Portugal were lavishly displayed in the decorations. In the children's building a creditable exhibition of ethnologies and physical culture was

DREADFUL CYCLONE.

Fifteen Persons Killed and Many Others Injured.

TERRIBLE SCENES OF DESOLATION.

The Bodies of Those Killed Shockingly Mangled and Disfigured—Litterally Cut in Two by the Force of the Wind.

TOPEKA, Kan., June 22.—One of the worst cyclones that ever visited Kansas swept over a section of the country in the Kansas river valley, twenty miles east of here, one mile wide and six miles long, completely destroying every house, fence and building, and killing instantly thirteen people. The dead are:

Evans, L. L. Kincaid, Clara.
Evans, Emory. Kincaid, Sadie.
Grimes, L. Kincaid, Walter.
Grimes, Mary, and Kincaid, Eva.
Hutchinson, Mrs. J. Peters, W. F.
Kincaid, Samuel. Stewart, Samuel.
Baker, James. Goepfert, William.
Goepfert, Mrs.

Grimes, Ross. Gray, Horace.
Harris, Stephen. Jones, A.
James, Lizzie. Jones, William.
Nichols, Emily. McCracken, Walter.

The bodies of all those killed were shockingly mangled. Mrs. Hutchinson's arms and legs were found in a tree a mile from the house. Eva Kincaid's head was severed from her body. Samuel Stewart and L. M. Grimes were carried 300 yards in different directions and mutilated almost beyond recognition. Stewart's body was cut in two, and Grimes' was in pieces of a great knife. As soon as the storm had passed the people of Perry and Lawrence were summoned to the scene. The desolation was awful and the hunt with lanterns for the dead and dying commenced. All night long the search was in progress. A corpse of a citizen from the two towns was quartered at Perry, two miles distant, and the remains of the bodies were scattered in all directions. The bodies of the dead and dying from the prairie and laying them out in a large building provided for that purpose. It was 1 o'clock before the last of the dead bodies was found.

In Williamson school was found the dead bodies of the Kincaid family, consisting of father, mother and four children. One of the children was found three miles from the house. At Arthur Evans', a quarter of a mile north of Williamson, everything is destroyed. Evans' house is in the basement, but was found dead three miles from the house in the field. Mrs. Evans also took shelter in the basement. The storm was in progress, but it was not until 1 o'clock that the storm had passed. Mr. Evans' father was in the rear portion of the basement, which was dug in the bluff, and escaped being killed.

At the Hutchinson farm, which is northwest of Williamson, Mrs. Hutchinson lost her life and Mr. Hutchinson was slightly injured. Several head of horses were killed. Some of these horses were blown a quarter of a mile away.

In the cemetery at Williamson the monuments are blown away and the bodies of the dead are scattered in all directions. The storm struck the timber it literally leveled it, besides stripping the trees of foliage and bark. Trees are torn up by the roots.

FOREST FIRES.

Miles of Ground Burned Over and Mountains Denuded of Their Timber.

DESVEN, Cal., June 22.—Forest fires have been raging on the Forest Hill mountains, three miles southwest of Fresno, since Monday night. The hills have been burned over several miles of ground and have entirely denuded Mount Carlos, the highest peak in the range, the blaze being visible ten miles away.

The stage driver who runs between Beulah and Pueblo yesterday reported the fire to be within three miles of Beulah, which is a pretty summer resort of 500 people. The only thing which will now save the town is a change of wind or a very copious shower.

Near Brookridge, in Summit county, another fire is raging. Last night great tongues shot skyward illuminating the city to the brightness of day. The fire is in a pretty summer resort of 500 people. The only thing which will now save the town is a change of wind or a very copious shower.

At the Little Mountain Mining and Milling Co. the men were out fighting the fire yesterday. The fire was in a pretty summer resort of 500 people. The only thing which will now save the town is a change of wind or a very copious shower.

POILED BANDITS.

A Train Stopped by Robbers in New Mexico.

OUTWITTED BY A CLEVER ENGINEER.

He Opens the Throttle and Drops Under the Range of the Winchester's of the Would-be Robbers—Aby Assisted by His Proman.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., June 22.—An attempt was made yesterday morning to hold up the Atlantic & Pacific passenger train which left Coolidge at 3 a. m., and in due time at 9:30 a. m. The train was flagged four miles east of Coolidge, and when the train stopped Conductor Carter and the brakemen got off to learn the cause. They were confronted by four men with Winchester's, who told them to throw up their hands and move forward to the express car and upon the messenger to open the door.

Two more of the band called on Engineer Lemon and his fireman to throw up their hands. In the meantime Messenger T. C. Higgins cautiously opened the express car door, gun in hand, and seeing the situation, instantly reloaded it and began to barricade. Engineer Lemon saw his opportunity, and telling his fireman to drop under the cab, he pulled open the throttle and dropped under the range of the Winchester's. The train being light, shot down the grade at lightning speed, leaving the conductor and brakemen behind in company of the robbers. The baffled outlaws permitted the conductor and brakemen to follow the train without further opposition.

The Reading Railroad.

Abandonment of the Plan for the Rehabilitation of the Company.

PHILADELPHIA, June 22.—The board of managers of the Philadelphia & Reading railroad, which yesterday decided to abandon the plan for the rehabilitation of the company, because of the required number of assets from general mortgage bondholders and shareholders not being obtained.

The total number of assets were $1,350,000 of general mortgage bonds, about $9,000,000 short, and 411,218 shares of stock, 608,750 shares short. The company was not altogether a surprise. Reading dropped from 7 1/2 to 10-16 as the board of managers issued a statement to the bondholders and shareholders for publication yesterday afternoon. An official of the company said after the meeting of the board that the plan for the rehabilitation was abandoned.

Why It Failed.

NEW YORK, June 22.—The failure of the Reading readjustment plan is being attributed to the apathy of New York bondholders, notwithstanding the fact that the plan was approved by the bondholders with foreign connections such as Kuhn, Loeb & Co., Speyer & Co., Hallgarten & Co., and others, have deposited the securities controlled by them. New York holders for the reason think it is unfair to ascribe the failure of the plan to them. An authority says: The failure of the Reading bondholders to come into the plan releases absolutely the syndicate from further responsibility, and so far as the support of the present syndicate goes, the plan is a failure. Somebody will have to put their hands into their pockets and take care of certain collateral loans in order to save important lateral roads in the Reading system and to meet the July interest.

BANKERS IN CONVENTION.

An Interesting Paper on "Women Investors" Read at the Meeting.

CHICAGO, June 22.—Interesting papers were read at the bankers' convention yesterday by S. Bacon Page, of Pennsylvania; Myron Campbell, of Indiana; and H. S. Hall, of Massachusetts. A paper on "Women Investors" was contributed by Mrs. Chas. Henry Rotten.

A meeting of delegates to the congress of bankers and financiers has been called for the 21st of July at the Hotel Hamilton in New York. The purpose of the meeting is to discuss the financial situation now prevailing in the country. Charles Parsons, of St. Louis, will preside, and Logan C. Moray, of New York, will introduce the subject. An invitation has been extended to Chicago bankers to take part in this symposium, the speeches of which will be limited to ten minutes each.

The fire and marine insurance congress has had a fine session yesterday, but the railway commerce congress was rather slightly attended.

A FATHER OF GLOSTER, R. I., uses a head-hack whose pole and sides are made of granite. This is getting set down to a head-hack.

Through Iowa.

WESTERN CITY, Ia., June 22.—The three leaders in the cowboy race passed through here yesterday afternoon. Berry was in the lead, passing through here at 4:30 p. m. He went through Blairburg, nine miles east, at 4:45. He stayed in Williams last night. Stephens, or "Rattlesnake Pete," and his partner, who were in the lead at 4:40 and cooled and fed their horses and ate supper. They left here at 5:30, intending to go to Iowa Falls last night. Berry's horse and partner's horse were in the lead and in fair condition, although the horse and partner's horse were in the lead and in fair condition, although the horse and partner's horse were in the lead and in fair condition.

Gillespie's two horses are in good shape. Berry claims to be confident of reaching Chicago first, and Gillespie and Stevens are equally confident of winning.

Reassembles the Borden Mystery.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 22.—A day-light tragedy was committed in Brightwood, a suburb of this city yesterday. It was strongly suggested the Borden murder. William Kinko, night engineer at the Big Four shops, waited yesterday for the pay-draw, did his pay at 9 o'clock, went home, gave the money to his wife and lay down to sleep. An hour later he was found with his head nearly mutilated and a bloody hatchet lying near. The police have no clue to the murderer.

Gov. McKinley, of Ohio, was made a Knight of Pythias at Columbus last Thursday. He joined Champion Lodge of that city and the ceremonies were especially elaborate in honor of the candidate. There was a large attendance of visiting brothers from other points in Ohio.

William Decker, aged 52, of Holland, Mich., was started to walk from that place to Chicago. If none but the brave deserve the Fair, he should succeed.
